Ranger Captain and His Troops Prove They Did Not Cross Border.

TRAINS DYNAMITED.

Story of Torture Dispelled by Examination of Body—State of Texas Starts Probe of Killing.

Austin, Tex., March 10.—Preliminary to an official investigation of the slaying in Mexico of Clemente Vergara, an American ranchman, and the mysterious return of the body early Sunday morning to the United States, Governor Colquitt, of Texas, has directed Adjutant General Henry Hutchings to proceed to Laredo immediately to view the body. The Governor instructed that identification of the body be made certain and that all available evidence be gathered.

Governor Colquitt declares that all information as to the exhuming of the body from the Hidalgo (Mex.) cemetery by persons who crossed from the American side and the return of the body to Texas would be at the disposal of President Wilson and the United States authorities if requested.

Captain J. J. Sanders, commander of Texas Rangers in the Laredo district, telegraphed a detailed report of the incident to Governor Colquitt, who made it public. The report to establish the identity of those who recovered the body and failed to explain Captain Sanders' [illegible] telegram that he "proceeded to Hidalgo, Mex., and recovered the body."

It was at first reported that Captain Sanders and his troop of rangers themselves recovered the body, and an official telegram from Captain Sanders to Governor Colquitt gave this impression.

Mexico City, March 10.—Rebels, attacking Torreon, today dynamited two federal troop trains carrying reinforcements to defend the town. The war office refused to give out the death list, but it was understood here that the casualties were small, General Huerta has ordered a strict censorship on account of the fighting at Torreon.

Two hundred Mexican refugees, who reached here today, asserted they were permitted by United States troops to escape from Fort Bliss, across the Texas border, on payment of small bribes. The Mexicans said that the prices of escape were $10 for officers, $5 for privates, and $1 for women.

The refugees were among those who, during the rebel attack on towns in northern Chihuahua, fled across the Rio Grand into Texas and begged the American soldiers to protect them.

The Mexicans said that the soldiers concealed the flight of the refugees from the officers by substituting border Mexicans eager to get free board.

General Huerta has ordered the federals to take the offensive against the Carranzistas in all parts of Mexico. Heretofore the Huerta troops have acted solely on the defensive, contenting themselves with resisting attacks by the rebels. According to a message sent by the dictator to the governors of all states, the federals will now vigorously attack the constitutionalists in the north and force the fighting all along the line.

Nelson O'Shaughnessy, American charge d'affaires, is constantly accompanied by a bodyguard, by order of Huerta, who professed to fear that an anti-American demonstration might follow the Vergara affair.

Wash., March 10.—Clemente Vergara's relatives, aided by hired Mexicans, removed Vergara from Hidalgo cemetery. This fact was absolutely established by a dispatch received at the War Department today from General Bliss commanding the border patrol.

His authority was a dispatch from Capt. H. F. Howard, who made the investigation.

Rumors that Vergara was cruelly tortured before being killed were dispelled by the report. No signs of burns were found on the body. It was evident, however, that Vergara was hanged and then shot. Four bullet holes were discovered on the body, and the neck was badly chafed but not broken.

Captain Sandersfi of the Texas Rangers, denied absolutely that he or any of his men crossed the border. They met the body, he said, at a landing opposite San Enrique Sunday morning. An undertaker named Convery took the body to Laredo Sunday night.

Captain Howard wired General Bliss that identification of the body was absolutely reliable. S. T. Hill, brother-in-law of Vergara, financed the expedition at a cost of $400, Captain Howard stated. The body is being held at Laredo at the request of the adjutant general.

WHY ROOFS BLOW OFF.

Building Inspector Blames it on Careless Workmanship.

Tin roofs on the houses in this city have so readily departed from their fastenings in the storms of the last few weeks that many householders have come to the conclusion that they were made for aviation purposes instead of for protection of the interior of the house from the vagaries of the weather.

But it is perfectly possible to make a tin roof keep to its place, according to Building Inspector Clarence T. Stubbs, of Baltimore. He says that the roof, next to the foundations, is the most important part of the house and should be closely watched while the builder is putting it on and at frequent intervals thereafter.

"The reason why so many tin roofs blow off," he says, "is because they are not nailed down properly and pockets of air form under the tin and the suction of a high wind rips them off. The weakest point is where the tin covers the fire wall. The tin here should be nailed over the fire wall and nailed as securely as on any other part. But it is not, and the house owner does not care so long as it doesn't leak. When the flashings on the fire walls loosen up, the wind gets under with a powerful grip and off goes the roof into the street.

"This condition could be prevented by honest workmanship and careful watching. But not 1 per cent. of the house owners bother with their roofs or care how they are laid so long as they keep the houses dry.

"Tin roofs can be made secure by plenty of nails in the right places, especially along the fire wall. And to prevent rafters from going, they should be fastened down by struts to the wall and ceiling joists.

REJECTS ASQUITH'S OFFER.

Government Home Rule Compromise Turned Down by Unionists.

London, March 10.—Premier Asquith and his cabinet yesterday yielded to the demands of the anti-home rule forces of the Ulster counties of Ireland. In a formal address to the House of Commons, the premier outlined the provisions of a home rule compromise by which the people of Ulster province may escape the dominancy of a Dublin parliament. The proposals were declared impossible by the Unionists. The terms of the compromise are:

1. The counties of Ulster province will be allowed to say whether or not they desire to be excluded from the operations of the home rule for Ireland bill.

2. A poll will be taken of the parliamentary electors on the question of exclusion before the home rule bill becomes operative.

3. If a majority favors exclusion the county or counties wherein there has been such a decision will be automatically excluded for a period of six years from the time of the first meeting of the new parliament.

4. If a majority of the Ulster counties favor exclusion only, the assent of a majority of the people of the whole United Kingdom can bring them under the sovereignty of the proposed Dublin parliament.

LAST WEEK OF LEGISLATURE

Rush to Consider Important Bills Before Two Houses.

THE TAX COMMISSION.

(Special Dispatch to the Gazette.)

Richmond, March 10.—After a bitter fight the Senate today by a vote of 14 to 23 passed the bill providing for co-ordinate education at the University of Virginia.

Richmond, Va., March 10.—With less than one week remaining in which to transact business, the house got down to work yesterday with 371 bills on its calendar, in which were listed practically every important measure offered at this session.

Under the adopted resolution offered by Speaker Cox, the House will, beginning tomorrow, consider only Senate bills and House bills with Senate amendments.

Delegate Meetze, of Prince William, yesterday offered a resolution taking the appointment of committees out of the hands of the speaker.

The Meetze resolution provides for the creation of a nominating committe to consist of nine members elected by the House at large.

Since the resolution seeks to alter the rules of the House it will be necessary to have it read by the clerk for five consecutive days before it can be acted upon.

Should the resolution carry it will bring about in the house of delegates conditions similar to those now existing in Congress.

With only a few more days of the present session and a crowded calendar facing the members of the Senate it is determined to hold three sessions daily for the remainder of the week and a strenuous effort will be made to pass the more important measures. It is thought by this procedure that the Senate can finish up nearly all the work before that branch of the assembly. The red light measure and the tax commission bill will be the only stumbling blocks in the way of rapid progress. An effort was made Saturday to limit the discussion on the former.

Efforts have been made to get the co-ordinate college measure and the bill providing that convict-made goods must be marked "prison made," taken up out of their regular order and set for special consideration. Both bills are now on the calendar and the endeavors to change the positions they occupy were not successful.

There is apparently a determination to limit oratory as far as possible during the remaining few days, and if this effort obtains, action will almost certainly be taken on every important bill on the senate calendar.

Various substitutes and amendments were offered in the Senate yesterday afternoon for the House Tax Commission bill. After all had been rejected, the proposed commission was fixed at ten members, four to be appointed by the Speakesr of the House, three by the President of the Senate, and three at large by the Governor.

It was stated that the entire house bill would probably be concurred in by the Senate. Senator Walker and Senator Cannon urged a committee of five to be named by the Governor, and Senators Royall and Edmondson contended that a commission of experts named by the Governor would be the most effective. Senator Featherstone favored a commission that would be responsible to its constituents.

Senator Wendenburg and others were successful yesterday in having the Co-ordinate College Bill placed on the calendar, but failed in an effort to have it made a special order.

Senator Hart, of Roanoke, denied that in the discussion of the "Red Light" bill on Saturday he had insinuated that President Wilson was a "moral coward" for signing the Kenyon bill, as was charged in a newspaper article.

The anti-shipping bill will probably come up in the House today on its passage, having been advanced last night to its third reading and engrossment by a vote of 51 to 19.

Shortly after the House had convened Mr. Pennington called up his bill providing for the regulation of the shipments of ardent spirits into the state or between points within the state, providing for the filing of orders and manifests of such shipments. Mr. Pennington declared this bill only made the Webb-Kenyon bill applicable to Virginia.

A vote was ordered. On a hand vote the bill was defeated, but when the roll was called it pased on its third reading by a vote of 51 to 1' Mr. Birrell voting with the minority

TRUST BILLS DISCUSSED.

President Wilson Confers With Carlin, Clayton and Floyd.

Washington, March 10.—President Wilson conferred yesterday with Representatives Clayton, Carlin and Floyd, the House Judiciary Sub-Committee, on Trust legislation, discussing the proposed bills dealing with holding companies, interlocking directorates, trade relations and definitions.

A number of substantial changes in the present drafts of the bills were considered, the President suggesting several amendments to meet objections presented during the hearings. The President has been reading the reports of the hearings and showed familiarity with the testimony.

A proposal to consolidate all four bills into one general anti-trust law amendment bill was discussed but nothing finally was determined. It was said, however, that the consolidation was probable.

The House Inter-State Commerce Sub-committee's Inter-State Trade Commission bill will be made public today.

Colonel Wm. P. Clough, of New York, chairman of the directorate of the Northern Pacific Railway, told the Committee on Inter-State Commerce today that he was not opposed to Federal regulation of railroad securities, but that he could not see any special necessity for it and that Congress should go slowly and carefully in any such legislation. He predicted that there would be no more new great railroad enterprises built alongside present systems.

WOMEN CLUB POLICE.

Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst Arrested After Battle at Suffragette Meeting in Glasgow.

Glasgow, March 10.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, leader of the militant suffragettes, was arrested last night, at a suffragette meeting in St. Andrew's Hall after a fierce fight with the police, in which a score of women were hurt and several constables badly bruised.

Mrs. Pankhurst had just declared that women had as ample justification for fighting for their rights today as men ever had in the history of the world, when a large force of police dashed into the hall with their clubs drawn. In anticipation of trouble, the suffragettes had stretched a network of barbed wire cross the platform. The wire was concealed by floral decorations and proved efficacious, with the aid of masculine supporters of the suffragettes using flower pots, chairs and anything they could lay their hands on as missiles, in holding back the police for a few minutes.

Finally when the police stormed the platform a number of women produced clubs from under their cloaks and used them vigorously against the attacking party. In the midst of the fighting several blank cartridges in pistols were fired and miniature bombs exploded. Frightened by the detonations, many women fainted.

The police succeeded in seizing Mrs. Pankhurst and dragging her off the platform and through the hall to the street. Here a desperate effort was made to rescue her as the police forced her into a taxicab and drove away to the police station.

Venus Mutilated.

London, March 10.—In revenge for the rearrest of Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, an unidentified suffragette today mutilated Valesquez's "Venus," in the National Gallery. The woman used a hatchet and ruined the work of art, which was valued at $200,000.

She was arrested, and at the police station, where she was held for trial, declined to give her name. The National Gallery was closed to the public immediately.

MAY IMPRISON IN CRIME OF MURDER

Movement Will Virtually Do Away With Capital Punishment.

FAVORABLE REPORT

Senator Tavener, Patron of Bill, Says we Are Living in an "Age of Reform and Mending."

Richmond, March 10.—What is known as Senate bill No. 190, giving juries in the trial of first degree murder cases the alternate of imposing life imprisonment instead of the death penalty, patroned by Senator Frederick S. Tavenner, of Shenandoah, and which was passed by the Senate Friday night by an overwhelming majority, was reported out of committee in the House yesterday and placed on the calendar. Senator Tavenner said that he has every reason to believe the bill will pass the House at this session of the General Assembly. He has secured powerful patronage for the measure in the House, and is sure it will be well represented on the floor in debate.

The text of the bill is as follows:

"1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Virginia, That section 3663 be amended and re-enacted so as to read as follows:

"Section 3663. Murder of the first degree shall be punished with death, or in the discretion of the jury by confinement in the penitentiary for life."

"This bill does not itself propose the abolition of capital punishment, and gives juries the alternative of life imprisonment only in the case of first degree murder. The measure was introduced by me in the hope that the scope of the bill will be enlarged in years to come. It is not impossible that amendments looking to the extension of the application of the bill may be introduced in the House at this session.

"My reasons for introducing and pushing the bill are three. The first is that miscarriage of justice are frequent in trials of first degree murder, because a jury, under oath to impose the death penalty if the prisoner is found guilty, will often fail to find him guilty or will reduce the crime to second degree murder to escape infliction of the ultimate punishment.

"Secondly, in murder cases feeling often runs very high, passions of people get roused to white heat, and the temper of excitement of the public minds affects the minds of the jurymen in spite of all efforts to prevent it. The crowd in the courtroom as it conducts itself leaves an indellible impression in the minds of the men on the jury. These things have the force of causing the death penalty to be inflicted in many cases where it justly is not due. A case may completely run away with a jury. This bill gives the jury an opportunity to guard against a very natural, but also very terrible, mistake.

"In the third place, this age is one of reform and mending, not of retaliation. It is a time to make and not to mar. Men are coming more and more to believe in the exercise of firm human kindness, and not quick retribution without a chance for betterment in the criminal.

"A majority of the States of the Union have already either adopted life imprisonment as punishment for first degree murder or have so fixed the laws governing the trial of cases that the jury has this alternative or the judge may so instruct the jury. Virginia needs to take her place in this list. The Rhode Island State Commission for the Revision of Criminal Laws in 1913 reported that there was no wish on the part of the commission to return to capital punishment in that State."

The Tavenner bill was introduced in the same form at the session of the General Assembly of 1912, was reported favorably out of committee, reached the calendar of the Senate, but never came to a vote.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRES.

Millions of Dollars' Worth of Property Prey to Flames.

Kieler, Okla., March 10.—Thirty-two buildings and approximately 50,000 barrels of oil, the porperty of the Texas Company, were destroyed by fire here late yesterday. The loss is estimated at $200,000. The fire originated in a row of small buildings, spraed rapidly and ignited the contents of three tanks. Twenty-three business houses were among the buildings destroyed. Fanned by a high wind, the fire, the origin of which has not been determined, soon was beyond control of the local fire fighting forces and was checked only when all of the frame buildings in its path had been destroyed.

Buffalo, N. Y., March 10.—The connecting terminal, a $1,000,000 elevator owned by the Connecting Terminal Railway, was destroyed by fire last night. The loss was placed at about $400,000 by Charles J. Strasmer, general agent of the company.

La Grange, Ga., March 10.—Fire early yesterday did damage estimated at $125,000 in the business section of LaGrange. A department store was destroyed and several nearby buildings, including the recently completed postoffice, badly damaged. The cause of the conflagration has not been discovered.

New York, March 10.—St. Luke's Episcopal Church in Brooklyn was destroyed by fire last night at a loss of $300,000. The church contained memorial stained glass windows of great value and a pipe organ, said to be the largest in Brooklyn, that cost $40,000.

Terre Haute, March 10.—Fire that started in a basement of a wholesale drug house in the business district here last night spread to adjoining structures and was soon beyond control.

Thirty minutes after the fire was discovered it was estimated that it had caused $100,000 damage to stock alone.

FORTY-FOUR ARE DEAD OR MISSING

RECOVERY OF BODIES.

Many of the Victims Badly Disgured, So Much so at to Prevent Identification by Relatives.

St. Louis, March 10.—The death toll from the Missouri Athletic Club holocaust was raised to eighteen early today, when firemen, by the aid of powerful electric lights, discovered the charred remains of eleven bodies penned in betwen two sections of fallen walls. Twenty-six persons are still missing, with hope for their safety abandoned.

Heaps of debris were still smoking early today, while firemen continued to play hose upon the ruins, and it was not believed that all the bodies could be removed before tonight. Thirty volunteer workers at daylight attacked the heaps of rubbish that imprison the eleven blackened bodies discovered about midnight. The bodies were so badly disfigured, according to fire officials, that they may never be identified.

Weeping women resumed the watch at the fire lines long before daylight today, their hope abandoned, but praying that by some miracle the bodies of their missing might have escaped mutilation that would make them imposs[ible] identification. Two women, [hea]vily dressed, arrived early [this] cousine, and clung to the [ruins] sobbing and wringing their[hands].

Officials of the athletic [club] united in their belief today [that] tween thirty and forty persons lost their lives, and Fire Chief Swingley, directing the work of rescue, held to the same opinion.

The building was a fire trap," Swingley declared today, "and I opposed turning that into a club building. Commercial buildings that house many people at night can never be anything but fire traps."

Explosion of a Gun.

Unable to withstand the energy of a new powder, a 12-inch gun at the Sandy Hook proving grounds exploded yesterday, sending its 2,000-pound breech block through a thick concrete wall, while parts of the barrel were hurled a half mile out to sea. Several men were slightly injured. The force of the explosion sent the shattered pieces of metal toward the buildings on the reservation. A mass weighing a ton struck the edge of a storehouse a half mile distant, and tore off a strip of the roof. Another big piece went screaming over the top of the Western Union wireless building a mile inland, and was followed by a small piece which plunged deep into the sand at the foot of the wireless tower.

Sulzer Loses First Appeal.

Albany, N. Y., March 10.—The application of Former Governor Sulzer for a writ of mandamus against State Comptroller Lohmer for salary as governor from the time he was removed from office, last October, was denied by Supreme Court Justice Chester.

Appeal was taken to the appellate division, which is expected to return a decision this week, that will pass the case to the Court of Appeals.

Should the Court of Appeals sustain the lower court, Mr. Sulzer will take the case to the United States Supreme Court to test the validity of his impeachment.

But God has opened them above
To smile through endless years

Mourn not for her, oh! lonely hearts,
But for yourselves be sad;
To you is left the bitterness,
To her all things are glad.

Mother, could you speak to us,
And could you live again,
Our aching hearts would then be healed,
But this we wish in vain

Army of Unemployed.

Sacramento, Cal., rid itself of the bulk of the army of the unemployed yesterday by driving them with clubs and fire hose across the river to Yolo county, but it has not yet freed itself from the problem, for the men are threatening to return to the capital city to burn and pillage property. Every bridge is guarded by police and deputy sheriffs and fire engines with long lines of hose are ready to sweep them back. As they retreated, the unemployed picked up rocks and shattered windows in streets cars and a few stores. Gen. Kelley, leader of the unemployed, and twenty of his lieutenants were placed under arrest on vagrancy charges and locked up in the city prison.

An indictment was brought against Strider by a grand jury which investigated the freight car robberies which took place at the Potomac yards near this city several months ago. CITY COUNCIL TONIGHT

Only Matter of Routine Nature Expected to be Considered by two Boards.

The regular semi-monthly meeting of the City Council will be held tonight. So far as known, only general business will be considered.

The initiative has been taken for the improvement this year of certain squares in the city with vitrified brick and granolithic sidewalks, residents of certain localities having petitioned Council for the same, but, of course, such work cannot be commenced until spring weather sets in; hence the committees on streets and finance have not as yet prepared the necessary ordinances providing for the work.

The finance committee, about this time of the year, consider the tax and license laws. These measures do not go into effect until June first, but the committee generally have them up for consideration several weeks before they are finally presented.

New Blouses and Waists

Silk Blouses are decidedly new and novel. The large flowing Mandarin sleeves and the losse-fitting designs of the garments give a draped appearance of fluffiness and transparency that is beyond description.

Prominently featured are Figured Chiffon Blouses in exquisite colorings, also figured chiffon combined with soft Shadow Laces and beautiful Spanish Laces. Lace and Net Blouses, in dainty effects. Crepe de Chine is still a strong favorite, and Georgette Crepe, crinkled crepe, and figured taffetas are stylish. New models in the "King" Tailored Shirts in Crepe de Chine and Wash Silks.

Our exclusive presentation of the celebrated Paul Poiret designed Larry made Blouses, in a number of original models. Velour de Jenesse, hand-embroidered in vivid colorings. Various styles in Crepe de Chine, figured crepe de Chine, figured and brocaded Crepes. For daring, originality in conception, and making, they possess an individuality not possible of duplication.

New Lingerie Blouses in Crinkled Crepes, Voiles, Organdies, colored Crepes, and all-over embroideried crepes, showing unmistakably the predominance of the crepe weaves in the season's new blouses. Dainty laces and embroideries in all the new features in designing add to the effective individuality of each creation.

MURDER IN RICHMOND.

Two Crimes in Quick Succession Are Followed by Man Chase.

Richmond, Va., March 10.—An attempted murder, followed a few minutes later by the murder of John Thomas Woodson, colored, at the hands of Thomas Allen, also colored in a man chase across the west end section of the city, threw the entire community into a state of great excitement. The murderer was run down after a lengthy marathon and admitted his crime.

He was arrested by Detective Sergeants Krengel and Atkinson and Patrolmen Hooker and Tomlinson and locked up in the Second Station.

The murder was committed with a 43-calibre revolver which Allen had taken from Russell Lewis, a negro during a row a short while before the crime, and in which Lewis had fired the pistol at Allen. The man pocketed the weapon and later used it to deadly effect upon Woodson.

Following the murder he ran from Wallace and Allen avenue, where he shot Woodson, towards Shields Woods, but was captured and brought back. Lewis was arrested by the officers charged with carrying a concealed weapon and with shooting at Allen in an attempt to kill.

THE REYNOLDS CASE.

State Board of Education to Settle Patrick County Problem.

Richmond, Va., March 10.—The State Board of Education reached an amicable understanding yesterday with citizens of Patrick county who have intimated that they wished to prefer charges against Division Superintendent J. F. Reynolds, elected at the last meeting of the State Board, and announced that opportunity will be offered at a meeting of May 14, to sift the matter fully. By this action the board was able to effect a satisfactory working agreement and at the same time give promise of a definite settlement of the controversy.

The board likewise set April 20 as the date for the first of a series of meetings at which a uniform list of textbooks for the use of the public school system of the State will be adopted. Between March 24 and April 14 the board will hear the representatives of various publishing houses under conditions to be governed by resolutions adopted yesterday.

The charges must be prepared in writing.

Governor Stuart and Attorney-General Pollard have expressed the wish to receive information submitted to them only through briefs prepared by the publishing houses.

The division superintendents of the State will be invited by the board to express their opinions as to the textbooks now in use.

ATTACKED FROM BEHIND.

Man is Cut While he is Returning From Church.

Tazewell, Va., March 10. — Reese Hall 19 years old, of Pisgah, nearly lost his life on Saturday night at the hands of a person, said to be Chas. Witt, of the same community. While Hall was returning home from a protracted meeting, it is alleged that Witt slipped up behind him and slashed a gash in his throat, which necessitated the taking of ten stitches. Witt, thinking that he had killed Hall, made a hasty retreat to his home, told his young wife of two years and his parents that he had killed a man, and left for the mountains. He has not been heard from since. Physicians say that Hall, although the wound is dangerously near the jugular vein will recover.

ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

Christopher Donnaumora, Burglar Suspect, Seeks Death.

Richmond, Va., March 10.—Christopher Donnaumora, the burglar suspect from New Haven, Conn., who was arrested by Detective Krengel Sunday night, at 407 North Second street, where the man's mother resides, attempted suicide in a cell in the Second Police Station yesterday morning by swallowing a dose of poisonous medicine and then slashing his throat several times with a section of the glass phial which he broke by hurling on the cement flooring.

Attracted by the sound of broken glass, Patrolman Thurman, who was engaged in rounding up the prisoners to aid in taking them to police court rushed to the cell and Donnaumora in the act of attempting to butt his brains out against the side of the cell which is covered with sheet iron.

Thurman quickly overpowered the man and it took him but a moment to see that the gashes in his throat were of no serious consequence. As for the medicine, however, he was not so sure. Ambulance doctors were summoned and by giving the would-be suicide an emetic succeeded in relieving him of most of the fluid.

The large class filled nearly the whole lower floor of the building. They were addressed by their teacher, Mr. John Howard Hall, and at the close of the session the other classes of the school were invited to the galleries to attend the closing exercises of the school. The young men of the class were invited to attend church, were notified of vacancies in different occupations and were invited to attend a banquet given Thursday in honor of the class contest.

MAY SIDE TRACK CAPITAL PUNISHMENT.

As has been stated in the Gazette, a bill has been introduced in the Virginia Senate by Mr. Tavenner, of Shenandoah, empowering juries to impose terms of imprisonment in the penitentiary upon persons committing murder. The bill as introduced will be found in full on the first page of the Gazette. The patron of the measure, doubtless meaning well, calls attention to the fact that certain states have abolished capital pnishment, and says we are living in an "age of reform and mending."

The number of murders in the State of Virginia shows an annual average notwithstanding the shadow of the gibbet, and when desperadoes realize that they are liable to escape the punishment due their deeds by the action of compassionate juries, the number will surely be multiplied.

About a decade ago five murders were committed in the city of Alexandria in the period of one year. Two cases of human butchers—that of George N. Curtin and Walter F. Schultz—have subsequently followed.

A long time ago the people of a western state concluded that capital punishment was a relic of a barbarous age, and imprisonment was substituted as the punishment for murder. In a short time the number of such offenses had multiplied to such an extent as to alarm the people of that commonwealth, and the law was soon restored to the statute book.

Capital pnishment for the crime of murder was the first law given to the human race, when the patriarch Noah stepped from the ark.

Those who profess to believe in revelation should not pose as being wise above that which has been written.

THE CASE OF LEO M. FRANK.

If any terrible mistake is about to be made in the case of Leo M. Frank, who is held responsible for the death of Mary Phagan in a pencil factory in Atlanta, Ga., the Gazette would be found anxiously pleading for a closer investigation into the horrid details in connection with the murder of the young and friendless girl, who was forced by penury to risk her character and eventually to forfeit her life in order to make her living. Frank has had two fair and impartial trials, and the blood of the little victim is crying for vengeance; hence all movements whereby alleged new evidence, or surprises, can be produced will prove abortive. The case of the little girl, who met such a terrible fate, has enlisted national interest, and the indignation of all right-thinking people throughout the country is naturally aroused. The fact that an innocent female, virtually a child, should have been made the victim of any human brute and her life taken in attempts to obliterate the tracks of him who led her astray is calling justly for vengeance.

There is an evident attempt on the part of some newspapers which are making the Frank case a specialty, to import the ritual murder illusion into the United States and to induce people to entertain the absurd notion that the fact that Frank is of the Semitic race is militating against him. Such an imposture will not do in the United States, where equal rights and opportunities are shown representatives of all nations and creeds. There are no ghettoes or Jew-baiting in America, and some of our best, most opulent and highly esteemed citizens are representatives of the chosen people of God. They are justly esteemed wherever they have proven themselvs, as they generally do, to be law-abiding citizens.

But sacred history shows there were bad men among them in the olden times, as there are among all nations, and, although seldom, members of the race, who are a disgrace to their brethern, are sometimes called upon to answer for their crimes. We believe such is the case of Frank, and the fact that he is a son of Abraham has nothing to do with the matter. The motive, circumstances and facts are decidedly against this young man, and that he is guilty as charged is the belief not only of the tribunal which brought him to justice, but of people of his own kith and kin who are as much horrified at the crime as others. One of the passages in a dispatch from Atlanta, written in the interest of the murderer is as follows:

"A human life—the soul of a condemned and hated man—is about to be submerged in a great abysmal chasm of pitiless hatred and bitter racial feeling. And this human being, a frail, God serving man of 30, a collegan, stands branded before the world a murderer—cursed and scorned because he is the son of the sons of his forefathers. Leo M. Frank, sentenced by a great State to suffer the death of a craven criminal, calls out from his cell to enlightened humanity, pleading for charity and forbearance. The shadow of the gallows is upon him. His life is to be snuffed out on April 17, the thirtieth anniversary of his birth."

This suggests the well-known case of Eugene Aram. He was a great scholar, a recognized English gentleman and mingled with the great. His defense, one of the most ingenious ever written, was intended to make it appear that he was above the commission of cirme. He murdered Daniel Clark, all the same, and met his fate on the gallows. Pathos, well enough in its way, should not wash blood from the hands of a murderer. Much more pathos could be used in the case of the unfortunate little girl who was walking to her death on the morning she fell into the hands of a man who should have been her protector.

SAVES DAUGHTER

Ready, Ky.—"I was not able to do anything for nearly six months," writes Mrs. Laura Bratcher, of this place, "and was down in bed for three months.

I cannot tell you how I suffered with my head, and with nervousness and womanly troubles.

Our family doctor told my husband he could not do me any good, and he had to give it up. We tried another doctor, but he did not help me.

At last, my mother advised me to take Cardui, the woman's tonic. I thought it was no use for I was nearly dead and nothing seemed to do me any good. But I took eleven bottles, and now I am able to do all of my work and my own washing.

I think Cardui is the best medicine in the world. My weight has increased, and I look the picture of health."

If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, get a bottle of Cardui today. Delay is dangerous. We know it will help you, for it has helped so many thousands of other weak women in the past 50 years.

In an attack upon the citizens' committee of 100 which was organized at a mass meeting at the New Willard Washington, last Thursday, Representative Ben Johnson yesterday charged that Brainard H. Warner, who called the mass meeting, had offered him a thinly veiled bribe to stop his attacks upon the "real estate ring" of the Capital.

NEWS OF THE DAY

The final chapter in the ironworkers' campaign to destroy 'open shops" with dynamite and nitroglycerine was written yesterday by the Supreme Court in refusing to review the penitentiary sentences imposed upon Frank M. Ryan, president of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, and 23 of the associations' members. Senator Kern, leading counsel for the ironworkers at their trial in the Federal district court at Indianapolis, state after the Supreme Court's action he did not contemplate appealing to the President for a pardon for the convicted men. A pardon alone stands between them and the penitentiary.

After heated debate lasting three hours, the Ministerial Union of Baltimore yesterday afternoon at the Central Young Men's Christian Association building referred to the Committee of Laymen which gave the recent Billy Sunday luncheon at the Hotel Emerson the question of inviting him to Baltimore. This action was taken at the conclusion of a bitter fight and after the Episcopal and Lutheran ministers had offered to withdraw in a body in "the interests of harmony in the union." A number of individual ministers stood ready to follow them.

Property valued at $500,000 was destroyed yesterday when the plant of the exporters and Traders' Warehouse and Compress Company in East Waco, Texas was burned. The loss included the $100,000 plant, 5,000 bales of cotton, eight box cars of the Missouri Kansas and Texas Railroad and adjoining outhouses of the company. Losses were said to be nearly covered by insurance. A brick warehouse containing more than 1,000 bales of cotton withstood the intense heat. The flames spread so rapidly that employes in the business office fled from their desks, abandoning personal belongings.

Minnie, the 2-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William K. Shott, of Amityville, Long Island, coughed yesterday and a pearl clasp pin dropped from her mouth. She swallowed the pin in November, and as it seemed to have no ill effects doctors decided not to disturb it. One pearl is missing from the pin.

Dispatches from Koritsa, where the Albanians had stationed government officials, say the inhabitants of the town have revolted and driven out the Albanians. The people afterward proclaimed an autonomous government.

The Supreme Court yesterday attacked the ancient legal fiction that woman's identity is swallowed up in that of her husband. Yesterday the court said the "fiction was vanishing," and decided that a wife may establish a new domicile to bring any kind of suit, in event her husband is disloyal to her. The immediate effect of this decision way to approve the judgment for $35,000 granted Mrs. Katherine Osenton, of Fayetteville, W. Va., against Miss Margaret H. Williamson, for alienation of her husband's affections. Mrs. Osenton left West Virginia and moved to Virginia to establish a domicile in the latter state and sue in the Federal courts of West Virginia.

We Promise You Relief from All Stomach Troubles Or Your Money Back

We honestly believe we have the best remedy in the world for indigestion and dyspepsia. We urge you to try it at our risk. If it doesn't relieve you—as we feel sure it will—we'll give back your money without a word. You know us—your family druggist. You know we wouldn't dare recommend anything we didn't know about, nor dare to break a promise. Therefore, when we recommend any remedy it is because we believe it to be better than any other to relieve the ailment for which it is made, and when we prove our faith in it and our sincerity toward you by promising to give back your money if it doesn't relieve you and in every way satisfy you, you have no possible excuse for doubt or hesitation.

Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets

are, we honestly believe, the best remedy made for Indigestion, Dyspepsia and all other Stomach Ills

We Know They're Good

Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets, in addition to other ingredients, contain Pepsin and Bismuth, two great digestive aids used by the entire medical profession. They soothe the inflamed stomach, check the heartburn and distress, stimulate a healthy secretion of the gastric juice, aid in rapid and comfortable digestion of the food and help to quickly convert it into rich red blood, and thereby into flesh, bone and muscle. They relieve stomach distress promptly, and, used regularly for a short time, tend to restore the stomach to a comfortable, easy-acting, healthy state. They aid greatly to promote regular bowel action.

Delays Are Dangerous

Don't neglect indigestion, for it frequently leads to all sorts of ills and complications. The pain and discomfort is not the most unfortunate part. The fact that when the stomach is not acting right, the material needed to repair the wastes that are constantly taking place in the body is not being given to the blood either in the proper condition or fast enough is far more serious. Nothing will cause more trouble than an unhealthy stomach. The blues, debility, lack of strength and energy, constipation, biliousness, headaches and scores of other serious ailments result from the failure of the stomach to properly do its work.

You Risk No Money

Our willingness to have you use Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets entirely at our risk proves our faith in them. We always sell them this way, and it is because we know that they have greatly benefited scores of sufferers to whom we have sold them. There's no red tape about our guarantee. It means just what it says. We'll ask you no questions. You needn't sign anything. Your word is enough for us. We know that when they help you you will consider it money well spent even if they had cost you ten times as much. If they don't help you, the money you paid for them is yours, and we want you to have it.

Sold only at the more than 7,000 Rexall Stores—the World's Greatest Drug Stores. In convenient boxes—three sizes: 25c, 50c, $1.00

SWANSON REPORT.

Riots and Loss of Life Due to Owners and Civil Officers.

Washington, March 10.—Blame for most of the riots and loss of life and property in the Paint and Cabin Creek districts of West Virginia in 1912 and 1913 is put upon the coal operators and civil authorities in a report yesterday submitted to the Senate by Chairman Swanson, of the special committee named to investigate conditions in the West Virginia mines. The committee found that military power was employed drastically, although civil courts were open and were not threatened and molested.

It failed, however, to find that peonage existed, that United States mails had been interferred with, or that the Federal immigration laws had been violated. The report enumerated the following contributing causes of strife in the coalfields:

"The failure of the operators in the Paint Creek district to renew their expiring contracts with the United Mine Workers; the determination of the coal operators under no circumstances to recognize the miners as an organization or union; the determination of the miners to organize and form a union; the employment by the operators of mine guards; the failure of the civil authorities to attempt to preserve peace and order at the beginning of violence and permitting things to drift from bad to worse without vigorous interference and assertion of authority; discontent among the miners occasioned by no opportunity to buy homes; no cemeteries except on the company's grounds ,postoffices located in company stores, private roads only to schools and stores; the disposition of the coal operators to keep strict espionage on all strangers who entered the district and to exercise their right of private ownership of this large district and to exclude from it all persons objectionable to them."

A Neglected Cold Often Affects the Lungs

Many serious cases of Throat or Lung Trouble can be directly traced to a cough or cold which has been neglected. If you notice that a cough persists in clinging to you take warning. If you neglect trying to stop this supposed trivial trouble the throat and lungs later become affected. In many cases Eckman's Alterative has been the means of bringing permanent relief. Investigate this case:—

Saratoga, N. Y.

"Gentlemen: For five or six years I was troubled with cough and expectoration. I also had a high fever. My case was declared Lung Trouble by my physician. I was given Cod Liver Oil, Creosote and other medicines, all without benefit. At Christmas time, 1906, I was not expected to live. Calling Dr. H. H. McCarthy, he advised the use of Eckman's Alterative, which I took with excellent results. I have gained in weight. I go out in all weathers and have had no cough or cold whatever. I give these facts to encourage others to use Eckman's Alterative."

(Affidavit) JAS. W. KANALY.

Eckman's Alterative has been proven by many years' test to be most efficacious for severe Throat and Lung Affections, Bronchitis, Bronchial Asthma, Stubborn Colds and in unbuilding the system. Contains no narcotics, poisons or habit-forming drugs. Ask for booklet telling of recoveries, and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for evidence. For sale by all leading druggists

THIS NEW MEDICINE SAVES YOU MONEY

We are druggists right here in your town and make a living out of the drug business, but it is because people have to have drugs and not because we like to see people suffer—we don't. Our duty is to render the best service we can, and when someone is ailing, we are interested in seeing them take the best medicine there is for their particular trouble. We don't recommend 'cure-alls,' as we don't believe there are such things. We don't want you to spend more than you have to. Some of you get small wages, and when you're sick, none at all, and you should get the most you can for your money.

We recently came a cross a new remedy for increasing strength and building up people who are run-down and emaciated. We know that a slight trouble sometimes grows into a serious one, and to stop it in the beginning, will save you money in the end. This new compound is called Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion. It is the best remedy when you are run-down, tired out, nervous—no matter what the cause. It doesn't merely stimulate you and make you feel good for a few hours, but takes hold of the weakness and builds you up to a healthy, normal condition. It is a real nerve-food tonic and builder of good blood, strong muscle, good digestion. It contains Hypophosphites, which tone the nerves, and pure Olive Oil, which nourishes the nerves, the blood and the entire system. Pleasant to take. Contains no alcohol or habit-forming drugs. We promise that if you are not perfectly satisfied with it,we'll give back your money as soon as you tell us. Sold only at the 7,000 Rexall Stores, and in this town only by us. $1.00. Wm. P. Taylor, druggist, 616 King street.

MILITANTS BUSY AGAIN.

London, March 9.—Sylvia Pankhurst, and Zelie Emerson, the American suffragette, figured in another militant demonstration in the Strand yesterday afternoon. Miss Pankhurst, who has been in hiding from the police for some time, was arrested when she attempted to join a procession headed by Miss Emerson. The militants and their supporters immediately attacked the police with sticks, stones and other weapons, and attempted to force their way through to Downing street, but were finally dispersed by mounted police. Several of the demonstrants were injured and many were arrested.

URGED NOT TO SIGN BILL.

Administrative Board Resolution Protests Against Rolling Stock Measure.

Richmond, March 10.—A resolution adopted by the Administrative Board yesterday urges Governor Stuart to veto the rolling stock bill which recently passed the Legislature. The text of the resolution, which was offered by Commissioners McCarthy and Folkes, is as follows:

"Resolved by the Administrative Board of the city of Richmond, That we most respectfully and urgently petition His Excellency, Hon. Henry Carter Stuart, to veto the bill known as the rolling stock tax measure, which awaits his signature.

"Our reasons for this request are that the bulk of the rolling stock of the railroads is always in the cities of the Commonwealth and is daily brought in for the benefit, more especially, of fire and police protection, and investigation in the city of Richmond will prove that the city of Richmond has spent more money for the laying of water mains to protect the rolling stock of the railroads than all of the counties of the State combined; that the present law is now pending in the Supreme Court and that the prospects of a special session of the Legislature for tax reform might make the rolling stock tax an object for its consideration. Certainly the present law should not be disturbed at this time.

"We further petition His Excellency that if he should deem it advisable to sign said measure, we most respectfully and urgently request that he exercise his constitutional prerogative and amend the proposed bill in such manner as was proposed upon the floor of the Senate and defeated by the narrow margin of 21 to 18, which said amendment, while not giving the cities anything like a commensurate tax for the sacrifice of their street blocked with rolling stock in day as well as night, or for the great expense of the construction of water mains for the fire protection and police protection, yet gives them some compensation in the shape of taxation."

A Japanese syndicate headed by Baron Takahasha, president of the Yokohoma Specie Bank, and Baron Matsui, governor of the Bank of Japan, has been formed with a capital of $300,000 to exploit Mexico's resources and colonize large sections of the country.
